Steal this.

What one person runs with Claude Code. Work and play. All of it is yours to take.

no cloud required

Cloud agents, without the cloud.

My agents run on the most powerful machine I own, at home. I reach them from a light laptop over Jump Desktop.

Close the laptop and walk away. The big machine keeps grinding.

route by consequence

The right model for each job.

Sol leads. Terra builds. Luna handles volume. Fable gets the work where voice and taste still win. I review the diff.

1 prompt 11 reviewable PRs
~7,400 lines of dead code removed

it edits its own brain

Claude Code that improves itself.

Every morning at 7am, a headless agent reads everything I did yesterday. Then it proposes edits to its own CLAUDE.md and skills.

Chrome Prioritizer.

A Chrome extension plus a companion server that prioritizes your open browser work.

Built with Claude Code. The repo is public.

PRs, not meetings

My company runs as a repo.

The Runpoint operating manual is a hosted repo. Agents open PRs against it. The argument happens in the diff.

This deck is built the same way.
